

Terms & Conditions of Membership with BAAL 2019

Membership Contract

By submitting your application online, by post, telephone or email, you are making an offer to subscribe to membership of BAAL which, if accepted by us, will result in a legally binding contract.

When renewing your membership, any payment is confirmation of the continued acceptance of this contract. You may not transfer any of your rights and obligations under these terms and conditions to another person.

All memberships will run for a period of 12 months, the membership term is January to December. If you join BAAL part way through the year your subscription will be offered and charged on a pro-rata basis.

Please note if you join anytime from the 1st August onwards, you will be required to also pay for membership for the following year.

Membership Renewals

The membership of those who pay their renewal subscription within the period of grace is renewed with effect from the date on which the preceding membership term expired. Membership runs continuously, and the right to enjoy benefits.

Those who pay a subscription, having previously resigned or whose membership has lapsed, for whatever reason, will be re-enrolled as though they are new members and their membership will not be continuous.

Cancellation for new members

You have 28 working days from the date of confirmation of your new membership in which to cancel your subscription. You can notify us of your wish to cancel your new membership by emailing admin@baal.org.uk or by calling on +44 (0) 330 333 0485.

If you wish to exercise your right to cancel your membership within 28 days, BAAL will refund the full cost. Beyond the 28 days cooling off period, no refunds will be offered at any point during the 12-month period.

The above cancellation rights only apply to new membership applications and will not apply to renewals of existing memberships.

Cancellation for current members

Members who advise BAAL that they will not be renewing their membership will be removed from membership with effect from the date on which their paid-up membership term expires, at which time all benefits and rights will cease. Members who neither renew nor advise BAAL of their intention in this regard are automatically lapsed at the end of the one-month grace period.

Consent & Privacy Policy

BAAL takes your privacy seriously and will process your personal data in accordance with the Data Protection Act and our privacy policy. Click here to read our full privacy and consent policy.

Member Code of Conduct

BAAL expects of its members the highest standards of dignity, fairness and integrity. These values and expectations form the basis of the BAAL Code of Conduct that members are requested to abide by.

Force Majeure

Neither party shall be liable to the other for any delay or non-performance of its obligations by reason of matters beyond its control including, but not limited to, any act of terrorism, war, riot, civil commotion, compliance with any law or government order, fire, flood or storm, strikes, or any other industrial dispute, delay in transit, power failure, postal delay, or any event that cannot be reasonably be planned for or avoided.

These Terms and Conditions do not and shall not affect your statutory rights as a consumer.

A person who is not party to these Terms shall not have any rights under or in connection with them under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act.

Variations to this agreement

BAAL may change these terms and conditions at any time upon giving its members 28 days prior notice. If the BAAL privacy policy changes, we will notify its members and subscribers by e-mail or a place special announcement on the BAAL website.
