

BAAL RESEARCHER DEVELOPMENT WORKSHOP SERIES 2021

HOW TO RESPOND TO JOURNAL PEER REVIEWERS' FEEDBACK? AN APPLIED LINGUISTICS EDITOR'S PERSPECTIVE

Date: 5 February 2021 (Friday)

Time: 1:30 p.m. - 3:00 p.m. (GMT)

Platform: Microsoft Teams (link will be sent to registered participants directly)

This workshop is delivered by an editor of two applied linguistics journals. Targeting doctoral students and ECRs in applied linguistics, the speaker will offer tried-and-tested advice on responding to peer-reviewers' feedback from the perspective of a journal editor and an experienced peer reviewer. Moreover, using his experience as an editor, reviewer, and author, the speaker will share some common mistakes made by less experienced authors when they respond to reviewers' comments. Plenty of time will be reserved for some interactive and hands-on tasks (e.g., addressing feedback from peer reviewers) and for the audience to ask questions.

Speaker

Luke Plonsky (PhD, Michigan State) is Associate Professor of Applied Linguistics at Northern Arizona University, where he teaches courses in second language acquisition and research methods. His work in these and other areas has resulted in over 90 articles, book chapters, and books. Luke is Senior Associate Editor of Studies in Second Language Acquisition, Managing Editor of Foreign Language Annals, Co-Editor of de Gruyter Mouton's Series on Language Acquisition, and Co-Director of the IRIS Database (iris-database.org). In addition to prior appointments at Georgetown and University College London, Luke has lectured in China, Japan, The Netherlands, Poland, Spain, and Puerto Rico.
